SUMMER
STYLE
The Office

★ Gentlemen, we feel your pain and see your stains: It's hot out there. So with help from This Is Us star Milo Ventimiglia, we've created a working man's survival guide to the steamiest months of the year, including the new breed of lightweight summer suits and the bags, watches, and shoes that make you shine...without actually shining

 Tom Schirmacher

Short Sleeves, Sucker
When you want to cool off at the office, you can either do it quietly by suiting up over bare arms (no one will ever know) or make everyone do double takes with blue-on-blue seersucker.

Good Milo, Bad Milo

• Milo Ventimiglia's bad-boy days are over. When Gilmore Girls returned last year for a four-episode Netflix run, viewers noticed that the 39-year-old actor's rough-and-tough Jess Mariano had suddenly become too good a man for the show's younger protagonist. And on This Is Us—the family weeper (and runaway hit) that followed soon after—Ventimiglia kills viewers with kindness as the Pearson clan's patriarch, Jack. Is it true what they say, that age softens your edges?

"Look, I've played a superhero," the youthful-as-ever Orange County native says in reference to his days on Heroes. "But I think Jack Pearson is actually the most realistic hero possible. He's a father who has influence over his children, who has impact on his family, who can be a good husband if he really, truly tries. I think that just being a good man is something we all can strive for and achieve."

"But at the same time," he advises sternly, "don't let anyone walk all over you. People should not mistake kindness for weakness. If you approach someone with goodness, or if someone's approaching you with goodness, you're gonna tenfold be better to them. But if they're bad to you, you can't allow that. So treat me good, I'll treat you better. Treat me bad, I'll treat you worse." —BRENNAN CARLEY

Look Busy, But Not Too Busy

A plaid suit like this has a lot going on, so wear it with a simple black polo. It'll calm down your whole look—and work perfectly with those pants when you're so hot you've gotta lose the jacket.
